The University of the Chinese Academy of Social Sciences (UCASS) is affiliated with the Chinese Academy of Social Sciences, the premier academic organization and comprehensive research center of the People’s Republic of China in the fields of philosophy and social sciences. Its predecessor, the Graduate School of the Chinese Academy of Social Sciences, is one of the earliest graduate schools in China. Proudly, UCASS operates and develops a most complete range of disciplines of humanities and social sciences in China, involving areas such as philosophy, economics, law, literature, history, management.

Actively promoting international exchange and cooperation in education and academic research, UCASS has established collaborative partnerships with more than 70 renowned universities and academic institutes in countries such as the United States of America, Britain, Germany, Japan and in regions such as Hong Kong, Macau and Taiwan.

In 1985, UCASS started to receive visiting students from abroad. In 1997, the master programs and doctoral programs became available for international students. In the past years, the enrollment scale of international students has been increasing and the education quality has been continuously improved.
In 2020, UCASS and the Management Committee of Guangzhou Economic and Technological Development Zone of Guangzhou Municipality in Guangdong Province signed a cooperation agreement on jointly setting up the Huangpu Institute of Advanced Study of UCASS (hereinafter referred to as the Huangpu Institute) in the China-Singapore Guangzhou Knowledge City. Focusing on the prominent disciplines of UCASS, the Huangpu Institute has drawn in a group of top academic experts from domestic and abroad, who are committed to nurturing high-level young talents. As an educational platform for international students, the Huangpu Institute will welcome the first cohort of international doctoral students for the English-taught Ph. D. programs in the autumn of 2021.
